

How to be an autism-confident employer – specialist Government funded training

Into Work

- 1 in 100 people in Scotland are autistic
- Autism Works! training is for professionals who have responsibility for recruitment, for managing staff or work environments and/or for developing good employer practice
- Enhance your ability as an employer and the confidence of your management team in recruiting, retaining and promoting autistic staff
- Our training will help with understanding the mutual rewards in supporting the recruitment of autistic people, and ensuring your business is an advocate for inclusion and diversity
- Training co-produced with an Autistic Advisory Group, building upon lived experience of autism
- 3 x 1.5 hour online sessions delivered over 3 weeks.
